How to Use This PDF

Use this document as your website content brief. It includes the recommended page structure, draft copy, project portfolio guidance, visual direction, and a launch checklist. Copy the text into your website builder and replace any examples with genuine work and accurate details.

Important accuracy note

Only publish the statement “100+ authors worked with” if it is true and you can stand behind it. If you are still building experience, replace it with “Author-focused creative support” or “Supporting authors with newsletter and book promotion services.” Never present demonstration work as paid client work.

Helping Authors Share Their Stories With the World

Godwin Gate is an author-focused creative service built around one important idea: authors deserve practical support as they grow their readership and promote their work.

We help writers strengthen their online presence through author newsletter setup, book promotion, book trailers, book reviews, and Goodreads Listopia-related services.

Our Main Focus: Author Newsletter Setup

An author’s relationship with readers shouldn’t end when someone finishes a book. A newsletter gives authors a way to share updates, announce upcoming releases, introduce new projects, and stay in touch with readers who choose to subscribe.

Godwin Gate aims to make this process easier by helping authors establish a clear, professional newsletter foundation, including signup forms, branded email templates, welcome emails, and basic subscriber organization according to each project’s needs.

Our Mission

To help authors present their work professionally, develop stronger reader connections, and build a more organized foundation for promoting their books.

Our Approach

- Author-focused: We begin by understanding each author’s goals.
- Practical: We focus on useful setups and clear deliverables.
- Professional: We aim for organized, polished work and straightforward communication.
- Reader-centered: We help authors create better ways to communicate with readers who want to hear from them.

Why Work With Godwin Gate?

Every author has a different audience, publishing journey, and set of goals. Our aim is to provide thoughtful support that fits the project rather than a one-size-fits-all approach. At Godwin Gate, we believe that a book can start a reader relationship—and a well-planned newsletter can help keep that relationship growing.

03. Projects Page

Goal: Show genuine examples of your work. Use screenshots, mockups, videos, and short descriptions. If you are new to newsletter setup, make clearly labeled demonstration projects rather than claiming fictional work as client work.

Page introduction

Work Created for Authors and Their Books

Explore selected projects related to author newsletters, book promotion, book trailers, and other book-focused services. Each project should show what was created, what the author needed, and how the work supported the project's goals.

Project	What to show	Suggested caption
01 — Author Newsletter Setup	Signup form, branded email template, welcome email, or automation test. Hide private subscriber information.	A demonstration of a clear signup experience and welcome email for readers.
02 — Book Promotion	Real promotional graphic, campaign asset, or approved promotional content.	Promotional content designed to introduce a book to its intended audience.
03 — Book Trailer	Embedded trailer, short video preview, or approved still image.	A visual presentation created to introduce a book's atmosphere, premise, or characters.
04 — Reviews & Discovery	Approved review-related content or book-discovery work. Do not imply an endorsement that was not given.	Book-focused content or discovery support completed for the project.

For each project, include

- A project title and service category.
- One or more clear screenshots or media previews.
- A short explanation of the task and the work you completed.
- The tools used, if relevant and accurate.
- Results only when you have genuine evidence.
- Client permission for work, book covers, testimonials, and identifying details.

Portfolio note

If you don't have newsletter client projects yet, create a demonstration project using a fictional author and fictional book. Label it "Demo Project" or "Concept Sample." For example, show a signup form and welcome email for a made-up author, then describe the features you built.
